Program Overview

The AASM mentor program is a one-year program designed to connect aspiring professionals (mentees) of the AASM with more experienced professionals (mentors) in the sleep medicine field. The goal of the program is to generate a meaningful relationship for participants, where mentors can provide direction and instruction to assist mentees in their personal and career growth. The program emphasizes a focus on professional development, knowledge and skill transfer, networking, and guidance.

Mentors and mentees are paired based on common career goals, experience, and special interests. The program’s design offers flexibility for mentors and mentees, giving both control over the mentorship relationship and how it will work. Mentors have a hand in framing the future of the field by helping other AASM members succeed early in their career. Mentees have a chance to gain valuable support and guidance from mentors as they explore career paths and expand their networks.

Timeline

February
Deadline to apply as a mentor or mentee

Mid-March
Participants are notified of their matches and program begins

June
If possible, plan to meet up at the annual SLEEP meeting

February
Program ends
The program should initiate a relationship that helps mentees identify and set professional and personal goals while thinking about their long-term career path. Through the duration of the program, participants will be encouraged to pursue additional experiences to enhance their professional development. Through these experiences, both participants should gain insight on best practices and advancements in the field to help them in their career development.

Network

The relationship should provide participants opportunities to expand their network and relationships in the AASM and the sleep field. Throughout the program, it is suggested that mentees work with their mentors to mature skills such as public speaking, active listening, and asking the right questions.

Guidance

Mentors are encouraged to provide guidance, coaching, and advice on handling sleep-related questions, concerns, and scenarios encountered in the field. The mentorship experience should help the mentee develop cognitive skills that strengthen the mental process of discovering, analyzing, and solving problems to overcome obstacles.

Knowledge & Skill Transfer

To help bridge the gap between theory and practice, the relationship should help mentees apply education-based information to real-world scenarios. Mentors should speak to necessary skills required in their day-to-day that mentees can learn to help them add value in an organization and progress on a career path.

Possible Areas of Focus

- The transition from residency into practice
- Current events/issues in the field
- Utilizing the AASM as a resource
- Career opportunities in education, research, private practice, and others
- Maintenance of Certification
- Work-life balance
- Time management and physician efficiency

Program Goals

- Career opportunities in education, research, private practice, and others
- The transition from residency into practice
- Work-life balance
- Current events/issues in the field
- Utilizing the AASM as a resource
- Career opportunities in education, research, private practice, and others
- Maintenance of Certification
- Time management and physician efficiency
Role of a Mentor

A mentor participating in the AASM mentor program should encourage the academic growth and career development of the mentee, assisting specifically in activities relevant for the mentee’s success in developing a career in sleep medicine. A mentor supports the mentee’s development of professional and interpersonal competencies through strategic questioning, goal setting, and planning.

MENTORS ARE ENCOURAGED TO:

• Help develop and formulate career and personal goals: short term and long term
• Provide guidance regarding setting priorities and time management to achieve goals
• Advise on maintaining a healthy work-life balance
• Assist with professional negotiation and conflict resolution
• Assist in developing communication skills relevant for a career in the sleep medicine field
• Assist in developing appropriate ethical standards and conducts related to work ethics
• Stay accessible, committed, and engaged during the length of the program

Role of a Mentee

A mentee participating in the program should actively seek knowledge, wisdom, and guidance from a mentor to assist with his/her growth in the field of sleep medicine. A mentee sets goals, asks questions, and incorporates what he/she has learned in his/her day to day to ensure goals are being met.

MENTEES ARE ENCOURAGED TO:

• Discuss goals, expectations, challenges, and concerns with your mentor
• Prepare for touchpoints by having an idea of what topics or issues you want to address
• Seek out and be receptive to constructive criticism and feedback
• Consider the skill sets you’d like to further develop during the program: What skills do I need to learn or improve to advance in the field?
• Establish a checklist for follow up and keep an ongoing portfolio of activities and accomplishments
What to Expect

BEFORE THE PROGRAM
- Visit aasm.org/mentorprogram
- Click on the “Become a Mentor” or “Become a Mentee” button, depending on your desired role, and complete the application before end of February.
- Participants will be notified of their match and next steps early March.

DURING THE PROGRAM
- While there are no requirements for how often participants must meet, both are encouraged to discuss preferences at the start of the program. Communications may take place as often as once a month, either electronically or where possible, in-person.
- Participants are encouraged, but not required, to meet once in person at the annual SLEEP meeting in June.
- The AASM will provide a guidebook with helpful tips and resources to facilitate relationship-building.

AFTER THE PROGRAM
- At the end of the year, participants will be asked to complete an AASM Mentor Program survey to assist with an overall evaluation of the program.

FAQS

I’m not an AASM member. Can I join the mentor program? No, you must be a current member to participate. Visit aasm.org/membership to learn how AASM membership can benefit you.

How long is the mentor program? The AASM Mentor Program is a year-long program, starting in March and ending in February the following year.

When can I apply for the mentor program? Applications for the mentorship program will be accepted until the end of February.

What are the requirements to be a mentor/mentee? The opportunity to be a mentor is open to individuals who are active AASM members and have been in the field (out of training) for 5 or more years. The opportunity to be a mentee is open to any individual who is an active AASM member.

Do mentoring teams have to live in the same city or state? Participants in mentoring teams can be in any part of the world, as long as all parties agree to be accountable and committed to the agreements formed between them.

READY TO GET STARTED?

AASM.ORG/MENTORPROGRAM
mentorship@aasm.org • 630-737-9700

As the leading voice in the sleep field, the AASM sets standards and promotes excellence in sleep medicine health care, education, and research. The AASM has a combined membership of 10,000 accredited member sleep centers and individual members, including physicians, scientists, and other health care professionals.